

Praise for:

Hatter M: Mad With Wonder

“Author Frank Beddor's bold re-imagining of the Alice in Wonderland mythos gains a brilliant new chapter in this second graphic novel. Beddor and returning co-writer Liz Cavalier do a fine job of enriching his characterization here and also offset his serious tone with some humorous situations that add just the right touch of lightheartedness to his fantastic tale.”

“Frank has great style of writing and from the looks of things he is the Jack White of the book world...”

“This is a must read series.”

“Whether you're intimately familiar with the realm, or have not yet found the joys of Wonderland, HATTER M: MAD WITH WONDER is a unique take on a classic and is definitely worth checking out.”

“Madigan is a sort of steampunk samurai, a trenchcoated master of blades, armed with a top hat that makes Oddjob’s bowler look like a Frisbee. Those unfamiliar with The Looking Glass Wars will find their curiosity piqued by the Hatter M comics—they’ll want to “follow the glow” into the more detailed world of the novel trilogy. A new, darker, more dangerous Wonderland awaits.”

“The exciting quest of Hatter M. returns with extraordinary wonder! These historical subplots provide an exceptional read of a heroic character on a quest for honor and hope with maniacal and whimsical characters. This is an impressive companion to all of Frank Beddor’s extraordinary novels...”

COMIC STORY ARC

“The second one, Mad with Wonder (by Beddor, Cavalier and Makkonen), has actually ratcheted up the fun factor and has an even more wicked sense of humor. The atmosphere, especially in the asylum, and the figural work are so beautifully stylized that they scratch the malleable surface of the surreal at times, making for a deep and at times deeply disturbing experience that feels like actually being shanghaied into a different world. There's an uneasiness at the periphery of every panel, madness beneath the smiles of every figure, a sense of true darkness lingering at the edge of every action and motive.”

“... Sami Makkonen was an inspired choice. I had never heard of the artist before but was blown away by his blend of detail, ambiance and surrealism. In short, Mr. Beddor picked a winner with Sami Makkonen whose work instantly improved the visual side of the Hatter M graphic novels... the book is loaded with awesome extras...”

Fantasy Book Critic

“I have to say that I've been impressed overall with Beddor's actualizing "Looking Glass Wars" via a transmedia approach. All of the components (prose work, graphic novels, webcomics, MMO and soundtrack) work very well independently but also tie numerous threads together to form a larger tapestry.

“The blending of fact and fiction made this book very magical. I loved Mad with Wonder. The ending made me wonder what happens next and made me anxious for the next book!”

FISHMUFFINS OF DOOM

“...illustrated in stunning fashion by newcomer Sami Makkonen. To anyone who thought that the second book would be lacking without Ben Templesmith’s art, I can assure you that it isn’t. Makkonen steps in and does lovely work. Each page is a visual delight...”
